Business goals

Evotec offers accelerating, high-value pipeline co-creation partnerships and CRO/CDMO services for the Top 20 pharmaceutical companies, and over 800 biotech companies, academic institutions, and other healthcare stakeholders. The company's expertise spans therapeutic/disease areas and most modalities, especially small molecules and biotherapeutics.

Evotec operates in a highly competitive international market where speed and agility are crucial. Growing the business through acquisitions globally, the company had a slew of point-to-point integrations. Therefore, Evotec wanted to improve its business processes and achieve a unified view of operations by centralizing application and data integration across its global locations. This would facilitate seamless collaboration among all stakeholders.

Technology challenges

Managing data across multiple systems poses a complex challenge. The IT team at this life science company met this challenge by establishing centralized team and solution to streamline integration and master data management. The team determined that a middleware-based approach would reduce the effort required to connect diverse systems.

How Boomi helped

The Boomi Enterprise Platform, with its associated services, was a clear winner for Evotec. Boomi Integration and Boomi DataHub allow the company to centralize integrations and manage global master data. The platform’s flexibility, scalability, and ease of use support Evotec’s expanding business.

Evotec’s IT team engaged Boomi Professional Services to gain valuable insights into architecture design and initial platform implementation. This partnership helped the team get up to speed and reach its goals faster.

With increasing growth, the need for integration also increased. From an initial seven integrations, it has expanded to 14 licenses, executing 80,000+ processes per month. Boomi facilitates the integration of all core systems, including ERP, CRM, HR, EHS (environment, health and safety), and procurement, with the number of integrations steadily increasing.

Results & business outcomes

Centralizing integrations globally has helped Evotec significantly reduce the effort of building integrations. This has enabled Evotec to:

- Achieve seamless process control over core systems and multiple business applications, including LIMS (laboratory information management systems), ELNs (electronic laboratory notebooks), and other research and development systems
- Recover swiftly from a cyberattack, with 50% productivity restored in one month and 80% in two months
- Become agile in a highly competitive industry with super-fast, intuitive integrations powered by Boomi AI
- Enhance compliance with automated reporting, and improve customer data security with multi-factor authentication and encryption
